Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, President
 The University of California
 Berkeley, California

My dear Dr. Sproul:

I am writing to request that you accord a leave of absence to [redacted] so that he may accept a call to work with this agency on matters of extreme importance to the national security. Knowing [redacted] academic commitments, it is with regret that we ask for his services. However, he has unusual qualifications which make him very important to the essential work of this agency.
